Drying of fruits, vegetables and herbs

We use drying, a technological process to remove a certain amount of water from fruits, vegetables and different salutary herbs, and at the same time we ensure that it lasts much longer than fresh ones. It slows the microbiological activity and biological processes which would cause corruption of fruits. That method makes our products belong to HEALTHY FOOD category because there are no chemical additions. They can be used in various situations and combinations.

Dried fruits (apple, plum, pear, cherry, strawberry, grapes, peach...) can be used in many different productions such as bakery, tea, cake, yogurt, muesli, salad, chocolate, ice-cream...

Dried vegetables spices and salutary herbs (tomato, paprika, carrot, onion, garlic, egg-plant, gourd, celery, parsley, mushrooms, sage, bear garlic, rose hip, mint...) are used in cosmetic, pharmacy, food industry... Drying is conducted immediately so the vitamins, minerals and essential oils are preserved in salutary herbs. Vegetables and spices are used in bakeries, homes, organised public kitchens, restaurants, and mostly in food and meat industries, canned food industries, spices, soups, sauces and food additions.

Economical reasons for drying

Fresh fruits and vegetables must be sold as soon as possible because it loses on freshness and starts rotting. Dried, they can be stored for a longer period and also they can be sold when needed at times when its price is higher due its lacking on the market. High product prices in the world ensures good incomes and with that a perspective way of making business and gaining. The most important fact is that our ecological situation in our region is on the highest level and our product quality is also at its maximum which causes many requests for our products.

Mostar

The city of Mostar is situated in a beautiful valley bedded between high mountains of Herzegovina. It is thanks to the river Neretva that Mostar was able to develop as a city in the desert-like landscape of Herzegovina. Neretva's size turned Mostar very early in to a trading centre of the region. What makes this city known is it's famous bridge. Mostar's population in 2003 was 105,448. With its hot summers and mild winters, Mostar is also one of Europe's sunniest cities. Mostar is home to several large companies including the mail delivery, telecommunication company and aluminium manufacturer Aluminij. Before the war there were also other important companies which had been closed, damaged or downsized: SOKO - military aircraft factory, Fabrika duhana Mostar - tobacco industry, Hepok - food industry. Mostar is an extraordinary town in every sense of the word. Its beauty goes far beyond its ancient "Old Town" and the old bridge that once stood uniting the city over the emerald Neretva River. Mediterian climate makes it the warmest city in Bosnia and Herzegovina. Walking through Mostar is a walk through the past. Its ancient walls tell timeless tales of the way it used to be. Its present struggle to keep its identity as a multi-ethnic community is an inspiring model for the future. You can visit the Austro-Hungarian public baths and have a swim or just relax in the jacuzzi's. Stroll along its lovely streets and admire the centuries-old Ottoman architecture. Sit and enjoy a fine bottle of Herzegovinian red or white wine. Handicraft shops take you deep into Herzegovina's past by upholding the tradition of quality, handmade goods. Mostar is far more than beautiful architecture and sunny weather...it is about a peace-loving community rebuilding itself from the ravages of war.
